Rain Spoiled Races.

NEW YORK, September 18.—During his brief career as a professional fighter Jimmy Britt has earned well over $100,000, and being of a saving nature the Californian has held on to a goodly portion of it. Unlike other great fighters who went through their winnings in a Jiffy and later were in want, Britt possesses a good sized fortune, and is therefore not dependent upon the boxing game for a livelihood. Added to his previous earning the $12,000 which he received for his share of the Nelson battle bridgs his total up to about $111,500.

Britt has money in the bank up to five figures, and he owns a row of flat houses in San Francisco that stands him exactify $30,000, and what is more, he is drawing loper cent. on the invested money every year. Jimmy Britt during his short career in the ring, but in so doing he has carned a reputation among the rounders of the Tenderloin of being s grouch who keeps the purse strings tighly drawn.

A close scrutiny of Britt's record as a professional, and the money he has made since he tossed off the robe of an amateur, is a great incentive for the clever boxer with a good head. His success is, to say the least, phenomenal. The following list of battles, the decisions and the amount of money he has earned is interesting:

mittee of the members appointed at the recent meeting of the National Association of Fire Insurance Underwriters to consider the subject of insurance of cotton, has been notified that the committee will meet in New York October 15th. Trouble of long standing prevails between the domestic companies operating in the South and the marine companies for control of the business. The marine companies, it is said, take the shore end of the cotton insurance risk, thus placing a policy on cotton from the moment it leaves the gin until it is landed in the hands of the foreign consumer.

The domestic concerns contend that they are entitled to the shore end of the insurance, and on this the threatened war involving all the cotton insurance turns of the foreign contends in the South linges.

VIRGINIA LANDING SONS TO FIGHT FOR UNCLE SAM.

AT GRAVESEND Steadily Increasing Numbers of Young Men From This State Entering Army and Navy of the United States.

the United States.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 18.—
The fact that most of the sons of Virginia identified themselves with their native State in the great War between the States has served to make the list of Virginia in the army rather shorter than might otherwise be expected of the State that gave Washington. Lee, Jackson, Stuart, Scott and Thomas to the minury annals of the country. But in recent years there has been a steadily increasing number of Virginians entering the army and navy of the United States, which goes to show that the love of the profession of arms among Virginians is not dead yet. The fact that there are very few of the higher officers in the army from Virginia tells its own story, that the young solders of that day in Virginia were in another army; that the ever-increasing number of leutenants and captains in Unice Sam's fighting force who hall from Virginia tells another tale, and that is that Virginia is as loyal to the Stars and Stripes to-day as she was to the Stars and Bars some forty years ago.
